

Challenges in Flood Forecasting

Katherine Self
Environment Agency

This talk will focus on how we define and measure the standard of our flood forecasts when they are used to issue flood warnings. Katherine will also introduce the concepts of probabilistic approach in flood forecasting to describe uncertainty associated with longer lead times.

Tuesday 22nd November at 7pm

The School of Earth and Environment, University of Leeds

Christmas Photo Competition

Royal Meteorological Society Yorkshire Local Centre

Theme: Weather of 2016

Judge: Keeley Donovan | Last Entry: 1st December

Categories: Best in Yorkshire, Best outside of Yorkshire, Audience's favourite

Entry is free*. Exciting prizes to win.

Participants must have attended at least one talk in the last 12 months.

All photos will be displayed and results announced at our Christmas Meeting on 12th December in the School of Earth and Environment Foyer from 6pm.

* Max 2 entries per person. For upcoming events visit us at: <http://tinyurl.com/rmetsyc>

Submission guidelines

- All entries must be emailed to rmetsoc_yorkshire@hotmail.co.uk for cataloging.
- A printed version of shortlisted entries will be put on display in the foyer and/or the monitors in the seminar room.
- Any type of camera or mobile phone can be used.
- File size must be no more than 4MB and consist of the entrant's name and a title e.g. "yourname_surname_storm.jpg"
- You are encouraged to submit a short caption (max 100 words) for each image submitted. The caption should include date, time and place of the photograph and any relevant meteorological context.
- Post-capture software manipulation of images such as cropping, panorama 'stitching' and contrast adjustments are permitted, but not to the extent that a submitted image does not fairly represent the original scene. If significant software manipulation has been undertaken on the image, please include details in the caption.

Judging and prizes

Entries will be judged on the evening of Monday, 12th December 2016 at the Christmas Meeting. Only one prize will be awarded per entrant unless an audience judged winner.

Copyright and permissions

By submitting images to the competition you confirm and warrant that:

-  You are the sole author of each entry and that it is your original work
-  You are the sole owner of the copyright in each image
-  You have the permission of any persons pictured in the image (or, where the image shows any persons under 18, the consent of their parent/guardian)